

Representation

Students are create symbols to represent their gods and their fictional political parties.

They also produce images that depict the characteristics and strengths of their gods.

Colors are selected based on the emotions and actions of the particular god.

Think about how standards support use of graphics to: represent, model, depict and illustrate.

Evidence

Students look for evidence to support their god as the best leader.

Then, they create persuasive campaign slogans and virtual posters.

Arguments are used in the online interviews and audio campaigns.

Poseidon Radio Ad.mp3

Think about how standards support use of graphics to: document, argue, persuade and convince.